Relations into life time career.

After gaining management experiences at various international media, training and events companies, in 2003 Arthur established Advantix Limited – an international firm specialising in organising events and managing communication projects for Natural Resources and Capital Markets. Headquartered in the UK, Advantix Ltd has subsidiaries in Russia and Kazakhstan. In 2004 Advantix established MINEX Forum – events and networking platform aimed at highlighting mining development across the Eurasian continent. Presently MINEX Forum network connects over 50,000 people whose professional interests are aligned with mining and exploration in Russia, Central Asia, China and Europe.

Arthur believes that many of today's issues are the result of misunderstanding and lack of leadership and can be resolved by targeted communications, education and thinking outside the box. These principles have been successfully implemented at various events and projects undertaken by Advantix Ltd the the past 15 years.
